

What are the symptoms of MS?

In MS, the nerves in the brain and/or spine are damaged and as these nerves control the functions of the whole body, MS can cause a wide variety of symptoms.

Common symptoms include :

- Fatigue
- Unusual sensations
- Problems with eyesight
- Walking difficulties
- Memory and thinking problems

For more information visit

mstrust.org.uk